

A choice of English World course programmes for teenagers and young adults

The English World course and the English World preparation course are good options for teenagers and young adults who wish to use their summer vacation to study English in central London.

English World

The English World course offers a programme of 20 hours tuition per week, taught in small groups (maximum 5 per class). The school day runs from 0900 hrs to 1445 hrs from Monday to Friday. After lessons, students are welcome to stay in school and use the quiet study spaces for lesson preparation, revision or reading. The school coffee lounge is available all day for tea and coffee. Alternatively, students can use their afternoons to explore London and visit places of interest. School staff are happy to make suggestions about interesting places to visit. The school timetable allows students to maximise the experience of living in central London and enjoy the parks, culture, sports and entertainment options available. The school's location allows easy connections to all parts of London.

The small class size allows students to practise and develop the key skills for higher education, improve their weak areas and grow their confidence.

The programme improves the learner's accuracy and fluency and develops the key skills of:

- Essay Writing
- Text Analysis
- Rich vocabulary
- Comprehension
- Pronunciation
- Presentation

The course offers students a good way to combine intensive study with a memorable cultural experience. The course is a good choice for students who are preparing for higher education or for end of school exams or for university entrance exams.

English World IELTS preparation

The English World IELTS preparation course is designed for students who need to sit the IELTS test for entry into university or higher education. The small class size allows tutors to give personal attention to each student and to coach them in the specific requirements of the exam.

Students can choose to add additional one-to-one lessons to either the English World course or the English World IELTS exam preparation course. This allows the student to work on very specific objectives with the tutor. This option is typically chosen by students who need to achieve a specific exam score and who prefer to work in a focussed way towards their personal objective.

For students wishing to sit the exam at the end of their course, the school can help with checking place availability at nearby exam test centres.

Accommodation

Accommodation is with local homestay hosts. These are located in the residential parts of the city. The typical journey time from the homestay to the school is approximately 30 minutes. Alternatively, for students who plan to be in London with the rest of their family, the school is happy to suggest suitable hotels which are located close to the school where all of the family can stay.

Accredited by the

of English in the UK

Students aged under 18 years

We offer appropriate levels of pastoral care and welfare support in school to these students. Students may not be supervised in the evenings and at weekends and we encourage under 18's to spend time with their homestay hosts.

Please refer to our guidelines on under 18s at www.regent.org.uk/policies

Transfer on arrival

We are happy to arrange a taxi transfer service to the homestay address on arrival, if required.

Weekends

Students are free at weekend to explore the city or to travel to other locations of interest such as Windsor, Brighton, Cambridge and Oxford. All of these are easily accessible by train from central London.

Location

Regent London is located in the very heart of London within easy access of the city's top attractions. The school is a five minute walk from the River Thames, Trafalgar Square, Regent Street, Covent Garden and the National Gallery.
